LONG CHIPS

Long Chips is a unique potato snack brand produced by Pernes, a company based in Latvia. The snacks are characterized by their long, thin, and crispy shape, measuring 21 cm in length, making them distinct from conventional potato chips.

Long Chips has positioned itself as a creative and fun snack option, appealing to consumers seeking both novelty and quality in their snacks. It has a global presence, with a focus on innovation and modern snacking trends.

DOLCE AMO

Pszczółka is a renowned Polish confectionery company with a rich history dating back to 1952. As a subsidiary of Krajowa Grupa Spożywcza S.A., it operates one of Europe's most modern candy factories, located in Lublin, Poland.

Pszczółka emphasizes quality by using natural ingredients such as cocoa, fruit juices, and nuts. Their commitment to excellence is supported by certifications including IFS, BRC, Rainforest Alliance, and RSPO.

Their products are enjoyed both domestically and internationally, reaching markets across Europe, America, Africa, the Middle East, and Asia.

38 GI PASTA

Gi Pasta is a low-glycemic-index pasta from Poland, with a GI value of 38—much lower than regular durum wheat pasta at about 55. It's produced by POL-MAK, a family-run company with nearly three decades of pasta-making experience, now moving into functional foods. The product was developed through research collaboration with the University of Life Sciences in Lublin, where experts in grain engineering and technology ensured scientific credibility in its formulation.

All varieties in the line—Fusilli, Penne, Filini, and Spaghetti—share the same high-quality ingredients: durum wheat flour, lupine flour, oat fiber, and vital gluten. Thanks to this blend, Gi Pasta offers 45% more protein, 146% more fiber, and 10g fewer carbohydrates per 100g cooked serving compared to traditional pasta. This makes it especially suitable for people with diabetes, insulin resistance, or anyone closely monitoring carbohydrate intake.

CANDART

Cand'art is a Belgian confectionery manufacturer specializing in high-quality artisanal lollipops. With roots dating back to 1930 and IFS Higher-Level certification, they combine traditional candy craftsmanship with modern production technology to deliver consistent, premium products.

Their range includes classic, sugar-free, vegan, and allergen-free lollipops, and they're known for offering flexible custom and private-label solutions. Cand'art supplies more than 20 countries, making them a reliable partner for innovative, tailor-made confectionery lines.

GRACI

Graci is a forward-thinking European brand focused on functional, science-driven breakfast foods and snacks. Built on the idea that real wellness starts from within, Graci develops muesli, granola, porridges, and quick meals formulated with nutrition experts to deliver high fibre, balanced energy, and clean-label ingredients.

Their products carry strong quality credentials, including organic certifications and international food-safety standards, positioning the brand as a premium choice for health-conscious consumers.
